

Lindsay Espinosa, Soprano

Soprano Lindsay Espinosa received her Bachelor's and Master's in Vocal Performance from Baldwin-Wallace College and Colorado State University. Since her return to Annapolis in 2016, Ms. Espinosa has performed with Live Arts Maryland as a soloist for Bach's St. John Passion and Mass in b-minor, Dan Forrest's Requiem for the Living (2017), Dvorak's Te Deum, and Mozart's Exsultate Jubilate. Ms. Espinosa enjoys performing musical theatre productions as well and could be seen as the title role in Amélie with Second Star Productions, Lily in The Secret Garden with Colonial Players and Live Arts, and Luisa in Live Arts' production of Fantastiks. She currently teaches music and movement at Preschool for the Arts at St. Anne's and private voice with Bethany Music Center located in Ellicott City.